FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Award-Winning Local Artist Expands Studio, Offers
In-Person Classes for Students Starting April 12

GARNERVILLE, NY; March 31, 2021— The Creative Arts Corner of Hudson Valley, Inc., announced its expansion to a new location in the heart of the Garner Historic District, and its opening for IN-PERSON DIGITAL PHOTOGRAPHY AND ARTS CLASSES.

Students ages 7 and older can now participate in in-person classes to create imagery in a professional photography studio and amid 14 acres of extraordinary landscape. CAC of Hudson Valley's programs allow students to:

- Create timeless photographic moments, only accessible through the unique industrial arts location and studio classes.
- Work hands-on with access to professional equipment and digital technologies.
- Build on — or temporarily replace — in-school and after-school arts programs.

Aspiring artists are invited to in-person after-school digital photography and arts classes, weekend programs, private & semi-private (create-a-class) lessons, photo walks and scout workshops.

- Spring classes, private lessons & workshops begin April 12 and run through June 7
- Summer intensives begin June 28 and run through Sept. 3

(Use Discount Code before April 15: EARLYBIRD10 for 10% off Group, Workshop & Intensive sessions)

“For 20 years, our classes have served as an inspiration and creative playground for children,” says award-winning photographer Deborah Grosmark, the founder, director and teaching artist at The CAC of Hudson Valley. “Right now, with students lacking places for both social interaction and artistic expression, our newly expanded and immersive studio is meeting those essential needs in a safe, nurturing and meaningful way.”

The studio adheres to all NY state COVID-19 safety guidelines, including mask-wearing, social distancing, sanitization and temperature checks. Each studio class is limited to (6) six students per session. Early registration is required.
